COVID-19 UPDATE

The Georgia Department of Public Health said that while it's seeing an uptick in COVID-19 cases.

The agency said the increase is likely due to a combination of a new COVID variant, people not prioritizing prevention measures, more summer travel, large gatherings, and some waning of immunity from vaccination or prior infections.

Starting on September 25, 2023, you'll be able to order four more free test at-home rapid Covid-19 tests for free through the federal government's website: <https://www.covid.gov/tests>

You will only need to provide your name and mailing address to order your tests and will have the option of providing your email address to receive order updates. The limit is one order per residential address and each order comes with four tests. Orders will begin shipping on Oct. 2, according to the U.S. Postal Service.
